Substantial Increases in Appraisements for Some Corporations in County.

LIST IS NOT COMPLETED

Equalization Board Giving Attention to Mercantile and Other Establishments in County.

Substantial increases in the assessments of some corporations in Jackson county over the appraisements for 1919 have been made by the Jackson county board of review. A few of the corporation assessments were announced yesterday and others are given out today. It is expected that the list will be complete by the first of next week. The board will likely adjourn about July 6.

The board is giving its attention now to the assessment of mercantile and other establishments in various parts of the county over which it has jurisdiction. Some of the corporations are assessed by the state board of tax commissioners and these are certified back to the county auditor. Some individuals who feel that their property has not been properly assessed have appeared before the board, but the number has been exceptionally small this year.

Other corporation assessments are:

HIGHWAY ENGINEERS HERE
WORK ON HEAVY PROGRAM

Many Roads Under Commission Supervision Are Being Re-surfaced With Gravel and Rock.

The engineers in charge of the highway work in the Seymour district are making rapid progress in the improvement of the roads, which have been taken over by the highway commission. Hundreds of miles of roadway had been neglected by the several counties during the last year when it became known that the state would maintain them after April 1 and a result the engineers found many of them in almost an impassable condition. The task of organizing maintenance forces and of getting the work started was not a small one.

In some sections of the district gravel beds have been taken over by the commission. Crushers are also being operated in other places so that the necessary stone for resurfacing work may be obtained at the lowest possible cost.

It is stated that it will be several months before all the state highways in this district are in first class condition. When the roads are once improved the task of maintaining them will not be great.

Progress is made on the concrete highways being built north and east of the city. Delays were experienced for a while as a result of the embargo on gravel but this will be overcome by the use of local gravel which meets the requirements of the commission.

ADOPT STANDARDS

State Commissioners Would Place Construction Work in State on Uniform Basis.

COVER MANY ROAD PROJECTS

Local Contracts Awarded Recently Completed Under Supervision of Commission Inspector.

With the view of placing all road work in Indiana on a uniform basis, the state highway commission has drafted standards which must be followed in the construction of highways under the jurisdiction of the commission. Recent road contracts in Jackson county have been built under the supervision of inspectors from the highway commission and the plan has been found to be satisfactory. The purpose of the new plan is to get the road system in Indiana on a uniform basis.

The order of the commission requires the standardization of road plans and specifications for county highways which are subject to the approval of the commission. The regulation is effective July 1 and covers all county road projects submitted to the commission for approval.

RACE FOR NOMINATION HAD TIGHTENED TODAY

Mississippi Delegation to Give Entire Support to Cox After the First Ballot.

By United Press.

San Francisco, June 30—The race for the Democratic presidential nomination had tightened today, with greater initial strength apparently accruing to the three leaders and many of the minor candidates being practically eliminated.

The camps of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, Governor James M. Cox and Wm. G. McAdoo were increasingly optimistic while the organizations of James Gerard, Ambassador John M. Davis and vice president Thomas R. Marshall assumed greater expectancy of the leaders running into a dead lock and paving the way for a compromise candidate. Other aspirants were frankly dubious of the outlook.

Perhaps the most important overnight development was the reported decision of the Mississippi delegation, following its complimentary vote for Senator John Sharp Williams, to cast its twenty votes solidly for Cox "forever after." It was known that both the McAdoo and Palmer backers had counted on winning several delegates from this state after they had deserted their "favorite son."

While plowing on the Owen Roeger farm, east of the city, Charles Knobbe unearthed a coin which bears the date of 1821.

An eleven pound son, Elson Garfield, was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hodapp, of this city, who are visiting in Indianapolis.

STRIVE TO EVADE
PLATFORM FIGHT

Resolutions Committee Make Some Modification in Administration Draft.

WALSH LEAVES SESSION

Denies However, That Departure was Due to any Discord with The Members

By United Press.

San Francisco, June 30—Wrestling almost through the night with the delicate questions which they have been called on to handle the framers of the Democratic party platform adjourned at an early hour this morning their work far from complete.

Unexpected difficulties were encountered when the sub-committee of nine named to draft the platform, met last night. Instead of ratifying an administration platform already drawn up for them, the committee members found it necessary because of strong pressure from various quarters, to make drastic modifications in plank submitted by administration leaders. These modifications were made necessary it was explained to "paleate restless element" which demanded consideration. Without agreeing finally on the form of a single plank the sub-committee adjourned at 2 a. m. until 9.30 when the deliberations were to be resumed. The sub-committee began working from two "model" platforms, one the Virginia Democratic platform specifically approved by President Wilson know as the administration platform which Secretary of State Colby had before him.

Agreeing at the outset that their work was only tentative and would face review and revision by the full committee, sub-committee members decided to do their work deliberately.

Early in the evening they discussed the league of nations plank arguing that the Wilson plank as the latest draft of the league plank is known, should not be adopted. He said its demand for treaty ratification without substantial reservations would act as a boomerang upon the Democratic party and pointed out the futility of expecting unqualified ratification, without a strong reservation to article 10 unless the demands won overwhelming control of the senate. Even then Senator Walsh indicated it would be difficult to get enough Democrats to vote for ratification unless article 10 was modified.

Later after expressing his views on the subject with considerable vigor, Walsh left the meeting and did not return.

He denied that discord caused him to depart.

The differences of opinion which developed were not on fundamentals but on phraseology for the most part. There was, however, some division of opinion as to the vision of incorporating an Irish plank. Some members of the sub-committee counselled silence while others advocated a reference to Ireland in connection with the league of nations as the hope for oppressed people for redress through the operation of article 19 which would give the U. S. "the friendly right"

It was understood that several members of the full committee insisted the plank writers should be told just how far they should go on writing declarations on the league of nations, liquor and other big issues.

Senator Glass, chairman, reported to the full committee that it would be impossible for the sub-committee to complete its work before late today and suggested that it be authorized to continue its deliberations. Harding and Coolidge Decide to Make Plea for Restoration of Party Government.

HARDING MAKES STATEMENT

Vice-President Should Have Larger Part in Coordinating Work of President and Senate.

By United Press.

Washington, June 30—Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge have agreed to base the Republican presidential campaign on a plea for restoration of party government as a substitute for "personal government." Harding said today. The announcement followed a conference attended by the Republican candidates for president and vice-president and Will Hays, Republican national chairman.

Harding also said that it had been agreed that the vice-president should have a larger part in coordinating the work of the President and senate.

The following statement was made by Harding:

"Governor Coolidge breakfasted with me this morning," said Harding, "and we have agreed that we will base the campaign on an appeal to restore party government as a substitute for personal government."

"The governor and I have both served as lieutenant governor of our respective states and we have learned how possible it is for the second official in the state to be a help in the party administration. I think the vice-president should be more than a mere substitute in waiting."

PLATFORM COMMITTEE BUSY

Although Party's Declaration of Principles Has Been Drafted Major Planks Are Outlined.

Bulletin.

San Francisco, June 30—The name of Senator R. L. Owen, of Oklahoma was placed in nomination at 11:40 (Mountain time). As soon as the nominating speech was completed, the Oklahoma delegation leaping to its feet and shouting wildly for its "favorite son."

By United Press.

San Francisco, June 30—From six to eight hours of assorted oratory interspersed with much music and shouting and aisle parading—the most spectacular session of the Democratic national convention—was the attraction today.

While the nominating speeches are being delivered the party's platform makers are hard at work endeavoring to frame in suitable language a set of planks upon which in essence they are practically agreed. This is obviously a somewhat arduous task, especially as Senator Glass remarked at 2 o'clock this morning after he had been in session with his colleagues since early morning—"There are senators on the sub-committee."

Although it was declared that so far not a single plank has been finally passed upon by the sub-committee there is no reason to believe that its report or that of the full committee will be distasteful to the White House. The stand on the league of nations will be entirely Wilsonian even if it does not follow the exact language the President is known to have suggested.

The sub-committee is making a desperate effort to raise the reference to Ireland as such form as will keep a fight in this subject off the floor of the convention, but as to wet or dry issue they of course, have no hope of preventing a debate.

The conclusion of the pre-nominating campaign of the candidates finds the leaders, Palmer, Cox and McAdoo, running close and apparently headed for a more or less prolonged deadlock much to the encouragement of some of the minor entries, particularly Davis, Marshall and Gerard.

Considerable interest but little real commotion was occasioned today in the Democratic camp by William Randolph Hearst's broadside in his papers nominating Senator James A. Reed as the presidential candidate for the "third party."

DANGEROUS AND COSTLY RAT.

(St. Louis Globe Democrat)

Because of the bubonic plague cases in Vera Cruz and the proximity of that port to the Gulf ports of the United States, Surgeon General Cumming is urging a war upon rats. The rat is the distributor of bubonic plague germs, just as different varieties of the mosquito are the carriers of yellow fever and malaria and the fly is the busy bearer of many germs. It has not been many years since this menace of the rat was discovered in an effort to learn the mystery of bubonic plague spreading, but now that it is known the reasonableness, the need, of a general war upon the rat is evident. But there is another good reason for such a war. The rat does damage to the amount of $180,000,000 annually in this country. Every person in the United States supports one rat and it costs him and her about $2 a year each to do it. The rat population and human population are estimated to be the same. A small fraction of the annual upkeep of rodents would practically exterminate the entire rat population. In view of the economic saving and the protection of the public health it would seem as though there should be a general campaign to accomplish this.

NAMED STATE TREASURER OF AMERICAN LEGION

The very nature of conditions requires that such a campaign be a public and organized one. Private enterprise cannot be depended upon. Rats are for the most part to be found in the downtown districts, around factories and warehouses and in tenements. Such measures of destruction as are effective must be systematic and done with equipment and skill private individuals do not possess. The federal authorities are in a position to advise and help only, but not to conduct local campaigns. Killing rats, like any other health and prophylactic movement, is officially a local police matter and unofficially purely individual or cooperative through some local organization. All the United States Public Health Service can do is to urge such a campaign and offer advice and the assistance of experts. If the people of any locality want assurance against bubonic plague or to stop supporting rats at $2 a head, they must do it themselves.

COULDN'T WALK 4 CITY BLOCKS

Says Tanlac Restored His Health When No Hope Was Held Out For His Recovery.

"At the time I began taking Tanlac I couldn't walk four blocks without giving out completely," said Joseph Heck, of 811 West Oak St., South Bend, Indiana.

"My troubles started two years ago when all of a sudden I had an awful smothering spell and turned blinding dizzy and fell out of my chair onto the floor. I had evidently had an attack of acute indigestion, for my stomach, which had been out of order for years, began rapidly to get worse. I couldn't eat a thing hardly without it souring and causing me to bloat up with gas. Those fainting, smothering spells got to coming on me regularly; I got so weak and short of breath I couldn't walk any distance without giving out. Many a morning I have started to work but wouldn't get over three or four blocks from home before I felt one of those spells coming on me and would go back and lay off all day. Finally, I got so bad off I wasn't able to work half the time. Whenever I did leave home in the morning I didn't know whether I would ever get back or not. My liver and kidneys also were all out of order and my back hurt all day long. My hips pained me terribly and my nerves were on edge all the time. In fact, I was a complete nervous and physical wreck and no hope was held out for my recovery.

"Last October I commenced taking Tanlac and it wasn't long before I could eat anything without any trouble at all, and from that day to this I have never had to worry about what I could eat. I don't know what it is to ever have one of those fainting spells any more, my liver and kidneys are in the finest kind of shape and I never have an ache or pain of any kind. I am not at all nervous, sleep like a top every night and can do as big a day's work as the best of them. I feel just like a man made all over again and I give Tanlac entire credit for it all."

Tanlac is sold in Seymour by Maxon's Pharmacy, and in Crothersville by C. W. Taulman and in Brownstown by Chas. Brock.

Crawfordsville, Claude Gregg, of Vincennes and William Royce of Terre Haute, were elected delegates-at-large to the national convention in Cleveland.

Probably the most important action by the convention, both to members of the legion and to the citizens of the state, was taken at the morning session when 40,000 former service men, members of the department of Indiana, were placed on record as urging the Governor to call a special session of the Legislature immediately, to take appropriate action on the project of a war memorial building for Indiana through the unanimous vote of the convention.

The convention also unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon the posts to refrain from participation in any enterprise on Memorial Day which would detract from its true meaning. The legislature of the state was called upon to provide a system for the accurate recording of discharged soldiers without a fee. Another report which was adopted recommended that aliens be barred from holding public office and teaching in public schools.

Paying What's Fair

THE average American is fair-minded. He prefers to pay his way and ask no favors.

People have no objection to paying the right price for a commodity once they know what the right price is.

The right price for gasoline is based first, on the cost of crude oil; second, on the cost of refining; and third, on the cost of distributing the refined product.

During the war prices were fixed by Governmental demand rather than by natural law.

The very low prices obtaining in 1915 were due to two causes—first, to ultra-conservatism due to uncertainty; second, to the spectacular production of oil in the Cushing fields, a production which dwindled almost as magically as it increased.

Since the Armistice the cost of every item entering into the production, refining, and distribution of petroleum products, has increased to an unprecedented degree. The production of crude petroleum has not kept pace with the demand. This has caused fierce competition for such crude oil as is obtainable. This competition has forced the price of crude up until it is costing the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), f. o. b. Whiting, $4.30 a barrel, as against $2.92 on Nov. 11, 1918—an increase of 47 percent.

Yet in the same period gasoline advanced in price but 24 percent.

Only through the efficiency of large scale refinery practice and through advanced scientific processes of extracting an ever increasing percentage of gasoline from the crude oil, has the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) been able to hold gasoline prices down to present levels, and still yield a fair return to its 4729 stockholders.

It is generally conceded in the petroleum industry that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is operating on the closest margin possible.

WATSON PRAISED FOR G. O. P. PLATFORM WORK

Indianapolis, Ind.—Senator James E. Watson has returned to Indianapolis, and except for a number of speeches in other states, he will remain in Indiana throughout the campaign. Senator Watson was chairman of the platform committee at the Chicago Convention. As to his services as chairman of this important committee the Toledo Blade offers the following comment:

"Until the hour when Senator James E. Watson, chairman of the platform committee, appeared, the great convention had dragged. Enthusiasm had been lacking, the spirits of the great crowd lagged. But as Watson, master orator, with his splendid presence and his impressive voice plunged into the reading of the document the convention of 1920 returned to the traditions of those that have gone before and the scattered hand-clapping sessions gave place to great outbursts of cheering and a complete change of color and atmosphere. The platform suited the convention and the convention stood on its feet and lifted its voice in roar after roar of unqualified approval.

"The committee on resolutions did its work notably well. Through the long hours of two nights and a day it met a difficult situation in patience and high purpose. Senator Watson and his colleagues having served their country well are richly deserving of the high honors their labors are bringing them."

BEVERIDGE AND HOOVER TO AID HARDING ACTIVELY

Washington, D. C. — Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana and Herbert Hoover are among the first to assure Senator Harding of their warm, personal, active support during the campaign. Senator Harding invited both men to meet with him, and after an exchange of views, both former Senator Beveridge and Mr. Hoover gave out public statements to the effect that they were in sympathy with Mr. Harding's views and would work earnestly and enthusiastically for his election.

COOLIDGE SHOWS SPLENDID RECORD

Republican Nominee for Vice-President is Man of Ability and Sound Achievements as Strong Executive.

Boston, Mass. — The following is the account of the life of Calvin Coolidge, the Republican candidate for Vice-President.

"Calvin Coolidge was born on a farm in rugged Vermont, on the birthday of the nation. On July 4 next he will be forty-eight years old. He was schooled at a little college in the New England hills. In an old-fashioned American law office he learned to know and reverence the meaning and the purpose of the law. For almost twenty-five years he has been doing the varied tasks of a country lawyer. His neighbors saw him work; they knew the depths that underlay his quiet surface, and they gave him their trust. They elected him successively school director, member of the common council, city attorney, mayor, four times member of the lower house of the State Legislature, four times state senator, twice president of the state senate, three times Lieutenant - Governor, and, having found him faithful in lesser things, they made him ruler over many things—they elected him their Governor. And then there came to Massachusetts the searching test that has come before and will come again and again to the institutions of finite man—the test of law and order. He had a passionate belief in the supremacy of the law—the law which the people themselves have slowly wrought for their own protection and the protection of their children. He went to the people on that great issue. He knew and trusted the men who labor with their hands on the farm or in the mill, and those men knew and trusted him. They proved that trust by rising in their might and triumphantly re-electing him Governor. Thus the man whom Massachusetts knew was made known to the whole nation.

Sincerity Big Asset.
"Because he would be independent, he has been frugal, and he has practiced frugality in the administration of public office. Because he would decide upon evidence rather than by impulse, he has talked little and listened much. He believes in party government as the most effective method of achieving the ideals of democracy and his work has proved his belief. He has the gift of co-operating with other men, and a talent in the selection of strong men. He has simplicity in thought and action. He is free from pretense. He has courage without bluster. He has patience. He has vision. He has tolerance, and in these days of suspicion and misunderstanding, tolerance is sorely needed. He has a deep and reverent faith in the principles of this government, and that faith has been built out of priceless experience. He has worked for and sympathized with the countless types of human life that make up our democracy. He is a student of books, but of men even more. And when he speaks, plain men find their deep, unspoken need and aspirations uttered, because he himself is one of them.

"It is sixty years since the Republican Party named its first President here. The city that was hardly more than a country village has come into its own. The nation that was a child among the nations now towers above them all. For sixty years our forebears and ourselves have tried to make this party an effective instrument for the expression of the deep purposes of a mighty nation. Old problems have been solved; new problems have arisen. Men and manners have changed. But still stand the ancient virtues—frugality, simplicity, sincerity, courage, tolerance and faith—yes, above all, faith in plain people."

HARDING RECORD GIVEN.

Washington, D. C. — The Congressional Directory gives the following account of Senator Harding, Republican candidate for President:

"Warren G. Harding, Republican, of Marion, Ohio, was born in Bloomington, Ohio, in 1875; has been a newspaper publisher since 1884; is married; was member of the Seventy-fifth and Seventy-sixth Ohio General Assemblies as senator from the Thirtieth district, 1899-1903, and Lieutenant-Governor of Ohio in 1904 and 1905; elected to the United States Senate, November 3, 1914. His term of service will expire March 3, 1921."

MISS BUSH HEADS WOMEN

Indianapolis, Ind. — Indiana Republican women are very greatly pleased with the selection of Miss Adah Bush as director of the woman's party at Republican State Headquarters for the present campaign. Miss Bush has long been active in Republican circles, and also one of the early advocates of woman suffrage. She has been associated with Warren T. McCray, Republican candidate for Governor, for a number of years. She has a wide circle of friends and a very extensive acquaintance among the women of Indiana. She will assume her new position July first.

HOOSIERS ACTIVE AT CONVENTION

Indiana Republicans Prominent at National Meeting—State Always Very Much in Evidence Throughout Week.

Chicago, Ill. — Indiana Republicans did themselves proud at the Republican National Convention. More than 1,000 Indiana people went to Chicago for the Convention, and they seemed to be every place all the time. Headquarters were maintained at the Congress hotel, and scores of Hoosiers were present every day and until late in the night. The rooms were tastefully decorated. The G. O. P. quartette of Huntington, composed of young ladies, wearing uniforms made especially for the occasion, entertained the visitors, and their singing was much in demand. Several hundred beautiful Indiana badges were provided, but so many Indiana people were present that the supply was exhausted long before the Convention was over.

Indiana leaders were in evidence during the entire Convention. The highest honor fell to Senator Watson, who was overwhelmingly elected chairman of the Platform Committee, and he performed the difficult task of framing the platform in a brilliant manner. Ex-Senator Beveridge was called to preside over the Convention for a time; Senator New was chairman of the Indiana delegation; Governor Goodrich and former Senator Jas. A. Hemenway took a leading part in many important conferences.

Hays is Busy.
Chairman Will H. Hays received an ovation when he called the Convention to order, and everybody had a good word for him. He handled the Convention in a masterly way and gave further evidence of his wonderful ability as a leader. L. W. Henley, former Secretary of the Indiana State Committee was in complete charge of Convention arrangements, and the Convention was conducted without any difficulty whatever, due to his efforts. Warren T. McCray was exceedingly popular with the visitors.

Every time the chairman called for the vote of Indiana a hush fell over the Convention, and apparently the Convention was interested more in Indiana's vote than any other State except New York and Pennsylvania. Hoosier Republicans had a happy week, and were on the job all the time.

Swiss Crops Poor.

The crops in Switzerland in 1919 were considerably below those in 1918, with the exception of the fruit crop. This was due to unfavorable atmospheric conditions, a cold and wet spring, drought in early summer and again in late summer, followed by sudden falls in temperature and early frosts, and to the fact that the acreage planted in 1919 was smaller than in 1918.

POMERENE OFFERS PLANK ON LEAGUE

to give the sub-committee an opportunity to go ahead with the writing of the planks.

Glass invited the members of the full committee who appeared before the sub-committee to submit planks for discussion. This was expected to expedite matters somewhat and to mollify some members of the committee who feared that the sub-committee might exceed its authority in drafting a platform if left without safeguards.

Senator Pomerene, who voted for the Lodge reservations, offered the following plank on the league of nations:

"We advocate the adoption of the peace treaty without reservations which would impair its integrity. We believe this is the most practical way to restore peace, but if such differences of opinion exist as to the form or substance of the reservations proposed as to prevent ratification then we demand that they be so harmonized that the treaty will be ratified without unnecessary delay. This is a solemn duty we owe the country and humanity."

Pomerene's plank expresses the view of that group of Democrats who while supporting the President, deem ratification at once the essential thing.

DR. OSBORN'S IMPROVED METHODS ARE EXCLUSIVELY HIS OWN, AND THERE IS NO GUESSWORK ABOUT IT—THEY HAVE PROVEN SUCCESSFUL

In the treatment and cure "Without the use of the knife" of Piles, Fistula, Fis-sure, Rupture, Chronic Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Obstruction, Rheumatism, Stomach, Bowels and other curable Chronic Diseases.

NO MATTER HOW OBSTINATE OR HOW CONTRACTED—CURED.

When I say I can cure, you can depend upon it, for I know from the successful results in thousands of similar cases to yours, just what I can accomplish. Grateful patients treated by me are constantly recommending others, and this is why I possess such a large practice.

Men, Women! If you do less than you should on your farm, at your desk, or in your shop, you are in some way weak. If you can't accomplish all that you expect or hope for, you are the silent sufferer from some hidden disease that affects one or more of the important nerve centers of the body. These neglected, or unknown conditions are usually diseases of the Pelvic System, which reflexly act upon the organs of elimination, digestion and the nervous system, which in turn has its influence on the brain. I have made a special study of the Nervous System, and have perfected methods that will cure where ordinary methods have failed. I will give you a searching and thorough examination FREE, thus determining the exact location of your trouble.

BEAR IN MIND that I have in Indianapolis one of the most modern and thoroughly equipped offices in the state with a man in charge who is ripe in years of experience, rich and mature in learning in his chosen work. That neither one of us will promise you more than we can give, and should you be unable to see me on date specified above, you can write or, better still, call at my home office, 314 Traction Terminal Building, Indianapolis. I do not use the knife, neither do I do any cutting.

federal order requiring the use of standardized plans and specifications by the state for all roads for which government aid is expected. The action of the commission extends the use of the approved standards to the roads which will be built in Indiana under the provisions of the county unit road law, by which the state shares the cost.

Officials of the commission have compiled the standards for the Indiana roads, which are identical with the requirements made of the state by the Federal government. The standards will apply to all county aid projects proposed under the state highway law, the county unit road law and the free gravel road law.

The highway department officials expect much benefit to the roads of the state as a result of the new regulation. The use of the standardized plans will improve many roads connecting with the state highway system.

Many counties of the state already have adopted the commission standards voluntarily to keep their road construction up to the specithe color bearers and directly behind these will be the American Legion members in uniform. The Boy Scouts of the city will form the next section and will be followed by decorated automobiles. The Stone City Band, of Bedford, will come next, and the last division of the parade will be composed of decorated automobiles.

About one hundred automobile and truck owners have signified their intention of decorating their machines and competing for the prizes offered by the Legion. These will be viewed by five judges whose names will not be made public until after the awards are made. None of those competing for prizes will know where the judges are located.

Shields Park will be attractively decorated for the celebration. An electric arch-way will be erected at the Seventh street entrance and the walk leading from this entrance to the auditorium will be covered with colored electric light globes. Flags and National Colors will be suspended at various places about the grounds. Announcement was made today that the celebration would be held rain or shine. The contracts for the several acts have been closed and these will be given regardless of weather conditions.

Several special trains have been provided for the return of visitors on the night of July 5. The business houses will be closed throughout the day, it is understood, and Seymour will join with the Legion in making the observance one of the most successful ever held in this part of the state.

Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Demons

Disease Caused by Germs in the Blood.

Medical scientists differ as to the causes of every form of rheumatism, but agree that when caused by a tiny disease germ, the only effective method of treatment, is to attack the disease at its source, and cleanse the blood of its cause.

This is why S. S. S., the greatest known blood purifier is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

S. S. S. is sold by all druggists. Free literature and medical advice can be had by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

The Answer to Your Three Necktie Problems

If you are "a regular fellow," the first thing you think of when you buy a necktie is the color. Then "How it is going to look when tied?" and last—"will it wear?" You will get a satisfactory answer to all of these questions in the new Japanese narrow-shape ties which we are now showing. Moreover they "go" with the new collar shapes mighty well.

CHANGE OF VAUDEVILLE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.
FOX NEWS—LATEST CURRENT EVENTS.

The production of motion pictures is undergoing a great change for the better. The leading stars and directors are going into business for themselves instead of working for wages paid by New York financiers who care little for the finer artistic phases of photoplay making.

In "The River's End" we offer the first photoplay from the studio of Marshall Neilan, formerly one of the highest salaried directors in the world. For his first offering Mr. Neilan has secured James Oliver Curwood's great story of the Canadian Northwest, "The River's End," considered by many the author's most popular work. Quite naturally, Marshall Neilan has spared nothing in cost of cast and production to make his first personally produced and directed effort as fine as possible.

YOU MAY THEREFORE EXPECT A REAL TREAT IN THIS GREAT BIG STORY OF GOD'S COUNTRY.

STRIVE TO EVADE PLATFORM FIGHT

to call Ireland's condition to the attention of the league. No member of the sub-committee advocated adoption of the Irish plank presented to the resolutions committee yesterday by Frank P. Walsh and Senator Phelan.

The labor plank and those asked by women's organizations will present little difficulty. Members said, as it was almost unanimously agreed favorable decisions should be written into the platform.

difficult to predict when the sub-committee would finish its work, but indications were it would not be for 24 hours. This would throw the reporting of the platform to the convention by the full committee over, to Thursday afternoon or possibly Friday.
